

Behavior Rubric for Caring

A person who is really caring...

often looks for opportunities to help others always listen to others and sincerely cares what others have to say sincerely cares about others and treats them as family members.

never puts others down and encourages others to do the same.

A person who is caring most of the time....

usually offers help to others.

listens to other's feelings or problems no matter what they are.

usually thinks before speaking to avoid putting others down.

A person who is caring now and then.....

helps others only when asked.

sometimes listens to others, but only if they are talking about something of interest.

sometimes cares about others feelings or problems.

puts others down once and awhile

A person who has to work on being more caring....

rarely helps others.

rarely listens to others and doesn't care about what they are saying.

seldom cares about others feeling or problems.

regularly puts others down

